

INSIDER TRADING & REPORTING POLICY

Amended and adopted by the Board of Directors on June 10, 2024

SUMMARY

TDG Gold Corp. and its subsidiaries (collectively the “Company”) are committed to complying with all applicable laws and regulations. The Insider Trading and Reporting Policy (“Policy”) highlights the reporting obligations and trading restrictions imposed on insiders by relevant securities legislation. It discusses the implementation of blackout periods, trading prohibitions, as well as insider reporting requirements as determined by securities legislation. All employees and others with access to confidential information need to understand their legal obligations in respect of such information as set out in this policy.

PURPOSE OF THE POLICY

The purpose of this Policy is to summarize the insider trading restrictions to which all directors, officers, employees, and technical advisory group members of the Company (“Personnel”), and those consultants or contractors (“Third Parties”) designated by the Chief Executive Officer (“CEO”) or Chief Financial Officer (“CFO”) are subject under applicable securities legislation, and to set forth a policy, governing investments in securities of the Company which is consistent with the legislation.

This Policy is not intended to discourage investment in the Company's securities. Rather, it is intended to highlight the obligations and the restrictions imposed on insiders by relevant securities legislation.

DEFINITIONS USED IN THIS POLICY

- Director means a member of the Board of Directors of the Company or one of its subsidiaries.
- Employees means all individuals currently employed by the Company in a permanent, part time or contract capacity, and includes officers of the Company and technical advisors, who may become aware of Undisclosed Material Information.
- Personnel means all Directors and Employees.
- Third Parties means consultants and/or contractors who are designated by the CEO/CFO that conduct work for the Company from time to time.
- Material Change means a change in the business, operations or capital of the Company that would reasonably be expected to have a significant effect on the market price or value of any of the securities of the Company and includes a decision to implement the change by the Board or by senior management of the Company who believe that confirmation of the decision by the Board is probable.
- Material Fact means a fact that significantly affects or would reasonably be expected to have a significant effect on the market price or value of the Company’s securities.
- Material Information means any information (Material Fact or Material Change) relating to the business and affairs of the Company that results in or would reasonably be expected to result in a significant change in the market price or value of any of the Company’s securities, or that a reasonable investor would likely consider important in making investment decisions.
- Undisclosed Material Information means Material Information pertaining to the Company that has not been publicly disclosed or information that has been publicly disclosed, but a reasonable period of time for its dissemination has not passed.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION

Securities legislation prohibits:

- Purchasing or selling the Company's shares with the knowledge of a Material Fact, Material Information or a Material Change concerning the Company that has not been generally disclosed.
- Unless explicitly permitted and authorized by law, informing (or "tipping"), other than when necessary, in the course of business, another person or corporation of a Material Fact, Material Information or Material Change concerning the Company before the Material Fact or Material Change has been generally disclosed.

These prohibitions apply even after you have terminated your relationship with the Company.

While the penalties for a breach of this prohibition vary among jurisdictions under provincial or territorial law, a breach may render you personally liable to prosecution and, upon conviction, to a fine not exceeding one million dollars or two years in jail, or both. Further, you may be subject to civil actions at the instance of security holders, the companies whose securities were traded, and securities regulators. Penalties under Canadian federal law can be even more severe and can include civil and criminal penalties for the Company and its supervisory personnel, if they fail to take appropriate steps to prevent insider trading.

This Policy applies to all Personnel and Third Parties, and you are responsible for ensuring compliance with this policy by any member of your family that lives with you or whose transactions in securities are subject to your influence or control, your spouse and any other person living with you. Remember, anyone scrutinizing your transactions will be doing so after the fact, with the benefit of hindsight. As a practical matter, before engaging in any transactions you should carefully consider how enforcement authorities and others might view the transaction in hindsight.

TRADING PROHIBITIONS

In light of the foregoing, all Personnel and Third Parties will be subject to the following prohibitions relating to investments in the Company's securities and securities of other public issuers:

- If one has knowledge of a Material Fact, Material Information or a Material Change related to the affairs of the Company or any public issuer involved in a transaction with the Company which is not generally known, no purchase or sale may be made until the end of the second trading day after which the information has been generally disclosed to the public.
- Knowledge of a Material Fact, Material Information or Material Change must not be conveyed to any other person for the purpose of assisting that person to buy or sell securities of a public issuer. In addition, such information must be conveyed only by appropriate persons in compliance with the Disclosure and Confidentiality Policy.
- The practice of selling "short" securities of the Company at any time is not permitted.
- Hedging transactions involving the Company's securities are not permitted except with the prior approval of the ESG Committee of the Company's Board of Directors.

- Trading is prohibited in the event that the Company has imposed a blackout period until the information has been generally disclosed to the public and the blackout period has expired.

For purposes of this Policy, public issuer includes any issuer, whether a corporation or otherwise, whose securities are traded in a public market, whether on a stock exchange or "over the counter".

The above prohibitions and the insider reporting obligations provided below applies equally to the trading or exercising of options to acquire shares or other securities of the public issuer.

If you are unsure whether you may trade in a given circumstance, you should contact the Disclosure Committee to determine if the particular information is or is not material. In exceptional circumstances, such as the imminent expiry of stock options, the Disclosure Committee may permit a broader class of persons to exercise options while in possession of material non-public information, including during a blackout period, provided that the securities acquired upon exercise of the options are not traded.

BLACKOUTS

From time to time, management of the Company may impose blackouts prohibiting any person subject to the blackout from trading in the Company's securities. Blackouts will generally be imposed by management in connection with events or developments that are, or that may be, considered material and non-public. Blackout notices may be selective, applying only to certain personnel aware of the information, or they may be imposed on a corporation-wide basis. To limit the distribution of material non-public information, the blackout notice will not generally identify the material non-public information that led to the blackout. When such a blackout is imposed, all persons subject to the blackout are prohibited from trading the Company's securities until notified by management that the blackout has expired. In general, this will be at the end of the second trading day following the public disclosure of the information or when such information ceases to be material.

If a person holds incentive stock options that expire during a blackout period, the option will be subject to the Blackout Expiration Term as defined in the Company's Stock Option Plan as follows: "If the expiry date for an option occurs during the Black-Out period, then, notwithstanding any other provision of the stock option plan, the option shall be extended no more than ten business days after the date the Black-Out is lifted by the Company, unless the delayed expiration would result in tax penalties or the participant or the Company is subject to a cease trade order in respect of the Company's securities."

INSIDER REPORTING OBLIGATIONS

A person or corporation who becomes an insider of the Company must file an insider report within 5 days of the date of becoming an insider. In addition, an insider whose direct or indirect beneficial ownership of or control or direction over securities of the Company changes, must file an insider report of the change within 5 days of the date of the change.

Generally, securities legislation defines insiders as:

- Every director or officer of a public issuer.
- Every director or senior officer of an entity that is itself an insider or a subsidiary of an issuer.
- Any person that has:

- Beneficial ownership of, or control or direction over, directly or indirectly, an issuer.
  - A combination of beneficial ownership of, and control or direction over, directly or indirectly, an issuer.
  - Securities of an issuer carrying more than 10% of the voting rights attached to all the issuer's outstanding voting securities, excluding, for the purpose of the calculation of the percentage held, any securities held by the person as underwriter in the course of a distribution.
- An issuer that has purchased, redeemed or otherwise acquired a security of its own issue, for so long as it continues to hold that security.
  - A person designated as an insider in an order made under section 3 of the British Columbia Securities Act.
  - A person that is in a prescribed class of persons.

Generally, an officer is:

- Chair of the Board of Directors, a Director, Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Vice President Exploration, Vice President Sustainability or Corporate Secretary.
- An individual who is designated as an officer under a bylaw or similar authority of the registrant or issuer.
- An individual who performs functions similar to those normally performed by an individual referred to above.

A copy of the insider report is required to be filed electronically on the System for Electronic Disclosure by Insiders (SEDI) at www.SEDI.ca.

In certain circumstances, directors and executive officers of the Company may also be subject to certain U.S. securities laws reporting requirements with respect to trades in securities of the Company. Unless the director or executive officer is also a principal shareholder of the Company or is otherwise deemed to be an "affiliate" of the corporation under U.S. securities law other than solely by virtue of being a director or executive officer of the Company, these reporting requirements generally do not apply in connection with trades of securities of the Company through the facilities of the TSXV. If any director or executive officer anticipates making any trades of securities of the Company outside the conditions described above in this paragraph, they should consult with U.S. legal counsel as to any reporting requirements under U.S. securities laws that may be applicable with respect to such trade.

In addition, under U.S. securities laws, a person that is deemed to beneficially own more than 5% of the Company's common shares may be required to file beneficial ownership reports with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. For this purpose, a person is normally deemed to beneficially own a security if he or she has the sole or shared power to vote or dispose of such security. A person is also normally deemed to beneficially own any security that he or she has a right to acquire within the next 60 days, including, common shares issuable upon the exercise of warrants, stock options and other convertible securities that are presently exercisable or will be exercisable within the next 60 days. Persons who hold significant positions in the Company's securities, including stock options, warrants and other convertible securities, should consult with U.S. legal counsel as to any beneficial ownership reporting requirements.

It is each insider's personal responsibility to ensure that all requisite insider trading and other reports are filed with the appropriate securities commissions within the required time limits.
